Plumbing Doctor's®

House Call

April 2008

Vol. 8 Issue 1

To the Customers and Friends of Plumbing M.D. Inc.®

Plumbing M.D. the Plumbing Doctor

Beginning in 2008 Plumbing M.D. will transition to the Plumbing Doctor as a primary name. Both Plumbing M.D. and Plumbing Doctor have been used simultaneously, but we feel that the name Plumbing Doctor is stronger in the marketplace than Plumbing M.D. and is easier for customers to understand and use.

The change will be gradual, but we hope to have Plumbing Doctor recognized as the primary name by the summer of 2008.

Even though Plumbing M.D. will no longer be the primary name in the marketplace, it will remain the corporate name and the company will still have the rights to the Plumbing M.D. trademark.

Plumbing Doctor Continues Growth Despite Economic Downturn

In spite of the economic downturn faced by many industries in the nation, 2007 proved to be another year of outstanding growth for Plumbing Doctor. This marks the fifth consecutive year of double digit growth for the company.

The service and repair sector of the plumbing industry has always been more resilient than the new construction sector; one of the many reasons Plumbing Doctor focuses its business on service and repair. When the economy declines or the housing market goes south people stop building new homes and the new construction segment of the industry suffers. However, the economy does not play a major factor in the plumbing service and repair sector. If a sewer system stops functioning a homeowner has little choice about whether they'll have it repaired.

Plumbing Doctor looks forward to another year of expansion and expects to see double digit growth figures for 2008 as well.

Reno Franchise Celebrates One Year Anniversary

Plumbing M.D. Reno celebrated its one year anniversary this past December. The company had an outstanding first year. They grew tremendously during the year and ended with sales that put them in the top 50th percentile of all plumbing companies in the nation. The company expects even bigger growth in 2008.

We congratulate Plumbing M.D. Reno for an outstanding 2007 and wish you the best of luck for a prosperous 2008.
